Introduction

PlanPrep, LLC, a California Limited Liability Company, is registered as an investment adviser with the State of California.

This agreement includes the PlanPrep Privacy Policy, Fee Schedule for Advisors, PlanPrep website, and Advisor Disclosure Brochure (the ADV Part 2A). Other terms are expressly set out below and are incorporated by reference herein to engage the services of PlanPrep (herein referred to as “Contractor”).

1) Effective Date

This Agreement is effective upon the Investment Advisor’s (herein referred to as “Advisor”) return of this document with the proper authorization from the Advisor’s firm.

The Advisor engages in the business of developing financial plans for individual and business clients. The Advisor requires the services of the Contractor as an independent Contractor and not as an employee, to render its services on the terms and conditions provided in this Agreement. The Contractor shall render services for the Advisor on the terms and conditions expressly provided for in this Agreement. The Advisor and Contractor are the only parties to this Agreement.

2) Amendments

The Contractor reserves the right to amend this Agreement at any time. The Advisor shall be required to return an authorized copy of the agreement to engage the Contractor’s services after the effective date. This Agreement may not be amended by the Advisor.

In consideration of the mutual responsibilities contained in this Agreement, the parties agree as follows:

3) Services

The specific financial planning services to be rendered by the Contractor to the Advisor may consist of:

- Analyzing and inputting data using documents submitted by the Advisor or the Advisor’s clients.
- Contacting clients to gather data and present reports when expressly authorized to do so by the Advisor and the client.
- Preparing reports with projections and alternate scenarios using the planning software, writing summaries, and/or creating PowerPoint presentations as requested.
- Provide a customized executive summary with a synopsis of each client's financial situation based on the analysis followed by a targeted action plan with strategies for the client to implement or a matrix of the issues and recommendations to consider.

The Contractor works in an electronic environment for the Advisor and does not retain client data beyond 12 months. Prior year data is purged on a quarterly basis. The Contractor maintain copies of all of reports and other documents as required by law.

4) Relationship

The Contractor does not provide legal advice, tax advice, or investment advisory services for the Advisor, nor does the Contractor have any discretion for the Advisor's client accounts or implementation decisions. The Contractor will not solicit or contact the Advisor's client under any circumstances unless engaged by the Advisor for a specific service. Advisors are, and will remain, always, as the key relationship manager with all of their respective clients.

5) Fees

The Advisor may request or receive a fee quote from the Contractor by email. The Contractor may need to contact the Advisor for clarification on the scope of the project. The fee quote will be for a given case based on the specific services requested only. Subsequent changes by the Advisor in the scope of the quoted project or plan may result in additional fees as specified in the PlanPrep fee schedule.

The Advisor is under no obligation to accept a quote or pay any fees to the Contractor. If there is no mutual agreement to the fee, the Contractor shall destroy or delete all copies of client documents completely and promptly and no fees due or payable.

The Contractor is entitled to the fee for the engaged services according to the PlanPrep fee schedule in effect at the time of an engagement. All fees are deemed earned and payable once PlanPrep has delivered the reports or advice requested by the Advisor.

Case consultations, changes and corrections may be applied after a quote is provided for a given case if the Advisor requires additional services not included in the original quote.

The Contractor may change its fees from time to time. Changes to the PlanPrep Fee Schedule are effective after the Contractor notifies the Advisor by email of the changes. Engaging the Contractor's services thereafter is implied acceptance of the fee changes.

In the event the Contractor introduces a new service, the fees for that service are effective at the launch of that service. All fees are quoted in U.S. Dollars. The Advisor is responsible for paying all fees and any taxes, if applicable, associated with services rendered by the Contractor.

6) Software Responsibilities

The Advisor is responsible for the licensing of the eMoney / WealthVision software. The Contractor is responsible for maintaining its own licenses to the planning software.

Imperfections and inconsistencies between the software and the calculation and/or reports generated by the software are not the responsibility of the Contractor. However, the Contractor shall make all reasonable efforts to understand and work around such inconsistencies before submitting the work to the Advisor. The Contractor will supply the financial plan reports to the Advisor. The Advisor is responsible ultimately for rectifying any reporting or calculation errors or inconsistencies directly with the software vendor.

7) Obligations of the Contractor

The Contractor will devote adequate time to perform its duties under this Agreement. If the Advisor requires additional services not included under this Agreement, the Contractor will make a reasonable effort to fit those additional services into its schedule as long as those efforts do not affect the timely delivery of services as required under this Agreement for services rendered to other Advisors.

Additional services may be subject to additional fees and will require additional time. The Contractor will make the analysis and executive summary available within fifteen (15) business days from receipt unless subsequent changes are requested by the Advisor. Receipt of data after 3:00 P.M. Pacific Time will be considered received the next business day.

The Contractor may suspend the acceptance of new Advisors from time to time to assure delivery of financial plans in a thorough, effective and timely manner that current Advisor clients expect and deserve.

8) Obligations of Advisor

The Advisor acknowledges that it is his or her responsibility to disclose the relationship with the Contractor. The Advisor agrees to devote adequate time, and respond to the Contractor's requests and/or submissions in a timely manner. The Advisor agrees to gather and furnish all the necessary data from the client before submission to the Contractor.

The Advisor agrees and warrants, without exception, that the data provided or compiled by the Advisor will be accurate, complete and ready for planning before submission. Incomplete or inaccurate data is not the responsibility of the Contractor, and will be considered ready for planning when received. Materials received subsequently may require the delivery clock to be reset. Additional fees may apply if additional information or substantial changes are required after (15) fifteen business days have passed from receipt of reports from the Contractor.

The Advisor is responsible for reviewing all data and information gathered from the client prior to submission to the Contractor, and for carefully reviewing reports provided by the Contractor prior to presenting them to the Advisor's client. The Contractor will not be responsible for errors, omissions or misinterpretations between the Advisor and/or its client.
